Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Claims of Officers of the Revolutionary Army The Bill, (H. B.) No, 3694, now before Congress, to provide for these claims, is entitled, A Bill to provide for the settlement of the unpaid claims of those officers of the line of the Revolutionary Army who served to the close of the War of Independence, and so returned on the books of the Treasury. This measure comes down to us from the opening of the Republic, connecting the glories, but also the responsibilities, of her earliest and her present day. The only explanation that can be given for the obtrusion of such a Bill within the precincts of our second century is to be found in the fact that the debt it contemplates was considerable, and due at home to those whose potency ceased with their disbandment, and whose rights, therefore, it has been deemed safe to disappoint and disregard, and, by a few, to deny. Towards a case of this sacred sort - and who can conceive one more so - it plainly devolves on a great and mighty people to place itself in an attitude of unmixed and entire good faith, free from all artifice and finesse of thought and word, and to determine the result according to actual facts and genuine testimony. Pervaded by this view a thorough investigation of the whole subject is herein faithfully presented; and the subject is divided, for convenience sake, into the several parts or heads, under which it seems naturally to fall. Respecting Half-pay and Commutation. On these subjects there is nothing higher or more authoritative than the declarations of Congress. On the 11th July, 1783, the Legislature of the State...
